Dear Parents,

At the Thompson Schools, we’re always looking to find new ways of raising money – but we understand that there are only so many times you can buy an overpriced cookie that you don’t really want to eat.

That’s why we’re writing to you – to let you know about a brand new way you can contribute to the schools, that won’t cost you a penny more than you already spend.

How do we do it?

We have a brand new website set up that lets you visit your favorite online stores, like Amazon, Best Buy, Cabela’s, Dick’s Sporting Goods, Target, Office Depot, The North Face, and Under Armour. By spending the same as you already do when you shop online, you’ll be contributing funds to whichever school you choose!

You can choose to contribute to the school in general, or even a specific department. Either way, your selected cause wins! The important thing to remember is there are no extra costs involved – you can still look for the same great online deals, ordering the same quality items from all over the world. The only difference is the difference you’ll be making to your chosen school.

If you want to help:

- Increase the budget of your school
- Contribute towards better equipment
- Increase the quality and safety of your child’s education

Then look no further – contribute funds every time you shop online, without paying extra.

What to do

All you need to do is log onto http://thompson-k12.fundcause.org, choose your school, and start shopping!

Remember to bookmark the page once you are there, so every time you shop online you can make a valuable contribution to your child’s future.

Kind regards,
